

Location & Directions to Penmore.

Introduction

The Isle of Mull is the second largest of the Hebrides, lying just off the west coast of Scotland.

Mull is an island of peninsulas which give it a long and varied coastline offering the visitor endless sea views and days of exploration and discovery.

The main ferry port and gateway to the isles is situated at Oban.

Oban is a 2 hour drive from Glasgow, Glasgow has an international airport.

The roads get quieter the further North you travel making Mull and the west coast of Scotland easily accessible.

The Ferry Trip

Ferries leave Oban every 2 hours with the trip lasting 40 minutes, for full details and to book your ferry passage on line visit the ferry operators web site.

You have several options on board, enjoy a meal in the restaurant, have a refreshment in the lounge bar or take in the views from the upper decks.
